Trouble in Milk Situation Is Near, Spaulding Says

Sales Committee of Eastern Producers Is Told They Must Negotiate Price of $5.02

"Government indifference to requests for higher milk prices, is causing the producer's temper to nearly reaching an end to formal negotiation on prices," according to Russell E. Spaulding, general manager of Eastern Producers Association who announced following a board meeting in Syracuse that a sales committee of the association had been given special instructions.

The committee is directed, "in view of the government ignoring appeals for revisions," to negotiate a price of $5.02 per hundred weight for Class I with the buyers of milk for August.

The association has previously urged Secretary Anderson to step-up prices effective August 1 instead of in the fall months.

Milk producers in the New York milk shed are voting on amendments to the Federal Milk Order July 26 providing $4.58 for July and August and $5.02 for September.

Eastern will join all other groups in the milkshed in a meeting to be held in Washington Thursday morning with government officials in an effort to bring about an amendment to the Order making $5.02 Class I price effective August 1 rather than September 1.

Two Persons Held On Forgery Count

George Dutcher, Woman Arrested on Charge in Check Matter

Arraigned before City Judge Cahill on charges of second degree forgery, George Dutcher and Nora Mayer, also known as Nora Dutcher, of 50 Hunter street, today waived examination in city court and were ordered held for the grand jury.

Bail for the couple will be fixed by a higher court.

The couple were arrested by Detective Clarence Brophy, of the Kingston police department, about 1 o'clock Tuesday.

According to information furnished by the police, the Dutcher are charged with forging the signature of a Fred Burch on a check stolen from a check book at the Trailway Restaurant, where Dutcher is employed as a dishwasher.

The check, according to the police, was in the amount of $50 and was cashed at Bernie Singer's July 3 in payment for a portable radio valued at $24.95. The Dutcher received $40.05 balance in cash. The radio was recovered at the time of the arrest.

The police say the blank check was stolen from the middle of a cabinet of supplies at the Trailway Restaurant, where the signed statement of the couple, Nora Dutcher forged the signature of "Fred Burch" on the check. Dutcher had met Burch while both were confined in the Dutchess county jail, police say. Both had admitted previous police records, it was said.

When the blank check was discovered missing from the check book, the police department was notified and Detective Brophy worked on the case until he cracked it yesterday.

Charges Are Dismissed

Harrisburg, Pa., July 16 (AP)—Charges of unfair labor practice brought against the Pittsburgh Pirates by Robert Murphy, organizer of the American Baseball Guild, have been dismissed by the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board. The board ruled that Murphy's baseball guild was a bona-fide labor organization. Dismissal of unfair labor charges against the Pirates was due largely to failure of Murphy to appear at a hearing in Pittsburgh on July 2, the board pointed out in handing down its findings yesterday.

Adirondack Lines Can Operate to November 5th to Assist Resort Area

New York, July 16—The Public Service Commission has granted to the Adirondack Transit Lines, Inc., a certificate of public convenience and necessity for temporary operation of a bus line from Kingston to Binnewater in the Town of Rosendale for a period to November 5, 1947.

The operation will be over Route 50 and is designed to serve the resort area at Williams Lake. The corporation proposes to charge a fare of 30 cents over the new route covering a distance of seven or eight miles.

Adirondack lines petitioned for a temporary authority in order to make service available immediately to accommodate residents in the lake resort area and indicated it will seek permanent authority for year-round operation.

Hearing Examiner George N. Mack in a report to the commission said that at present there is no public transportation available along the Route 50 through Rosendale, Hurley and Ulster, between Binnewater and the Kingston city line.

In Kingston the line will proceed over Lucas available Washington avenue, North Front street, Crown street to the uptown bus terminal.

Howard Gould, 41, of Odessa, as public relations director of the New York State Teachers Association was announced today by Executive Secretary Arvie Eldred. Eldred said Gould, who is resigning as principal of the central school at Odessa, will direct an expanded program of "of" interpreting the whole program of education to teacher and lay groups throughout the state. Gould will begin his new duties September 1.

Lightning Hits Glenelg Lake Camp 3rd Time in 6 Years; Stuns Hayman

Two local young men have a log on lightning disproving the theory that it never strikes twice in the same place.

They know it hits as often as three times and one of them, Leo Hayman, 27, of 19 Downs street, can testify to its fury on the third strike.

It knocked him about 15 feet across a room at approximately 2:30 Tuesday afternoon in a summer camp shared by himself and Herbert Middagh, 29, of 147 Glen street, at Glenelg Lake Park. It shattered virtually everything in the kitchen and turned colorless glasses to a weird orange hue. It delivered the same touch of orange to a galvanized nail, shattered windows, and made ribbons of curtains.

Connelly Elected Post Commander, Vote Unanimous

Standing Receives Post Commander's Button, Praise for His Leadership

Attorney James G. Connelly of 58 St. James street, a World War 2 major with five years service, became commander of Kingston Post, 150, American Legion, Tuesday night, at the annual meeting held in the Memorial Building on West O'Reilly street.

Having been nominated by the committee chosen for the purpose of selecting a successor to Ernest A. Steuding, Commander Connelly's election, and that of his whole panel of officers for the ensuing year was unanimous. The meeting hall was filled for the occasion.

The new officers: Commander—James G. Connelly; Vice commanders—Harold Middagh, Morgan Ryan and Philip Toffel.

Service officer—Howard Shurtler; Welfare officer—Charles Shurtler; Adjutant—Andrew J. Murphy, II.

Athletic officer—Andrew J. Murphy, III.

Trustees—Edward Geschwindner, Plunket, Bernhardt Kramer, Roy Jacob and Thomas Murray; Chaplain—The Rev. Asahel Smith, Jr.

Historian—Robert J. Funchion; Treasurer—William Thiel; Sergeant at arms—Michael Milano.

Installed by Schantz. Installation, following election, was conducted by Ulster County Commander Philip Schantz of Highland, who administered the oath of office to the new commander and his aides.

The report of Police Lieutenant William F. Roedel, retiring treasurer, revealed outstanding accomplishments during the incumbency of the late commander.

This the young men have accepted as the nature of lightning but they are wondering why it spends itself so freely at their camp and no other camp in the region.

Their log of its recurrence briefly is: Spring of 1941: hit electric meter while painting camp.

Summer, 1943: hit the beer keg as they were entertaining 20 servicemen.

Summer, 1947: hit electric meter as Hayman was alone in the camp reading a magazine. "Most unusual but not as damaging," said the two young men was the bolt of 1943 which sent many of the servicemen "looking for foxholes in the camp."

Henderson Says Prices Might Drop

Ex-Price Administrator Sees Little Danger of Depression of Big Proportions

Viewpoints Clash

Henderson's Views Are at Variance With Bunting

Washington, July 16 (AP)—Former Price Administrator Leon Henderson said today he sees "little immediate danger of a major depression" but that prices may collapse disastrously as they did after World War I.

"While that collapse (of 1920-21) cannot be compared with the grinding depression of 1929-33, it was no picnic," Henderson said in a statement prepared for the joint congressional committee on the economic report.

He presented his document as chairman of the Executive Committee of Americans for Democratic Action, an organization of self-styled "liberals" committed to the principles of liberty and justice and the democratic process.

"Today, just as in 1920, prices have been permitted to get out of hand," Henderson declared. Once again, the price structure is shot through with distortions and imbalances.

Henderson, now chief economist of the Research Institute of America, a private business survey enterprise, made no mention in his statement of yesterday's testimony to the committee by the National Association of Manufacturers. But the A.M.A. views set forth clashed sharply with those enunciated by N.A.M. President Earl Bunting.

For example, Henderson said: "The fruits of our stabilization program have thrown the winds in the hasty abandonment of wartime controls. . . . Had the basic wartime controls been continued, our economy today would be equally solid and strong."

Bunting, on the other hand, recalled that "N.A.M. argued for elimination of price controls in order to encourage production. Bunting said this objective has been achieved with only 'moderate' price increases, and that during the war."

Few Attend Public Hearing at Hall On Firemen's Time

The public hearing on the local law to decrease the hours served by paid firemen in Kingston was held at the city hall at 10 o'clock this morning before a slim attendance of representatives of the paid firemen. No private citizens appeared to speak for or against the measure. Mayor William F. Edmuth presided.

The law was given its final reading at a recent session of the Common Council and the hearing was mandatory before it becomes law. Under the measure, the hours would be decreased from 72 to 60 hours a week.

The new hours for the firemen would not become effective until January 1, 1948, under provisions of the law.

Bruce Is Nominated

Washington, July 16 (AP)—David K. Este Bruce of Virginia was nominated by President Truman today to be assistant secretary of commerce. He now is an assistant to the secretary. Bruce is a son of the late Senator William Cabell Bruce of Maryland and a former son-in-law of the late Andrew W. Mellon, Pittsburgh philanthropist.

Both have decided, "There must be something there which attracts lightning." But whatever it is, they are not planning to move.

"Perhaps lightning rods," they said, "might catch the next pitch."

Trouble Averted Over Thruway Truck Price

Possible serious trouble among truckmen on the New York State new Thru-way job being done by the Grand View Construction Company north of Saugerties, was averted today when Sheriff George Smith sent deputies to the scene after being informed by Dominick Mirabelli on Tuesday that trouble was brewing.

Deputies William Frost and Arthur Smith went to the scene Tuesday and investigated complaints that threats had been made by certain drivers against other drivers of trucks.

It was stated by the deputies who investigated that Mirabelli had been employing local trucks on the job and also using some of his own trucks. Fifteen truckmen, who had been engaged on a Greene county job which was completed, sought employment on the Ulster county job and sought to get $3.50 per hour for their trucks and driver. They had been receiving $3 per hour in Greene county. Deputy Frost said. A compromise was reached between the truckmen and the contractor with $3.25 per hour being offered and accepted.

When the truckmen reported for work they demanded all 15 be hired and when the contractor declined to hire all of the trucks, it was said trouble began. The truckmen demanded all 15 work or none would go to work.

Tuesday Sheriff Smith was notified that there had been threats made against the truckmen who had been steadily engaged and that the 15 new men were refusing to work. It was reported that attempts might be made to prevent the men now working from continuing on the job.

No Serious Difficulty When the deputies arrived at the scene Tuesday they found no serious difficulty. Today Deputy Frost visited the scene and reported the regular crew of truck drivers was on the job but the additional men were declining to work unless all 15 went to work.

Representatives of the contractor, who had been steadily engaged and that the 15 new men were refusing to work. It was reported that attempts might be made to prevent the men now working from continuing on the job.

It was pointed out by one of the bankers that the report of a merger of "two banks with combined resources of $15,000,000" was impossible, since the combined resources of any two banks in the uptown area could not possibly total that figure, the combined amount being either much smaller or much larger.

"Resources through the combination of any two of the local uptown banks could not make a total of $15,000,000, and this fact alone disproves the story of the merger," said one banker.

Another bank official said he "resented references being made to certain changes in the banks, changes of which he said he knew nothing and he classified the rumor as 'idle talk.'"

Aldermen Hold Out Little Hope

July 20 Is Deadline When Council Must Act on School Budget

Most aldermen expressing opinions on the plight of the Common Council to gain redress for opponents to the school budget which would fix the school tax at $22.44, indicated that little if any action can be taken at this late date without impairing the city's school program.

It was learned, meanwhile, through information from the state comptroller, now at the city clerk's office, that the legislative bodies in only 11 cities in the state are empowered to exercise anything resembling a school budget action, while 51 cities have no control.

The Common Council has only until July 20 to take action which legally fixes the tax rate and it is doubtful if a new study of the budget could be completed if a public hearing were called before the council session Thursday and the deadline Sunday.

The school budget procedure in effect locally is the same for the 50 other cities in the state. Of the other 11 cities, however, in which the legislature is supposed to have some power in the preparation of the school budget, only New York has effective exercise of the privilege.

Direct legislative control of the school budgets in the 11 cities is offset by board of education authority on separate budgetary provisions, which in test cases, it is reported, amounts to the same situation as in this city.

Poughkeepsie is among the 11 cities which have no control. The Common Council has only until July 20 to take action which legally fixes the tax rate and it is doubtful if a new study of the budget could be completed if a public hearing were called before the council session Thursday and the deadline Sunday.

Education Board Stand Is Attacked

Letter From Board Is Read, Says Council Suggestions Hasty, Incomplete

Roth Gives View

Alderman Says Board Taxes Without Any Representation

Related but mounting taxpayer protest forced another delay in Common Council action on the city's $1,081,522.24 school budget. Tuesday night as proponents of the public hearing policy flung the ancient and familiar American charge of "taxation without representation."

The councilmen in a second recessed session on the budget voted unanimously for First Ward Alderman Paul Zucca's resolution asking for another recess until Thursday night to give the Board of Education an opportunity to confer with the council.

Adoption of the resolution followed the reading of a letter from the education board which charged the aldermen with hasty, incomplete suggestions and comment and held that the school budget cannot be reduced "without seriously affecting the efficient operation of the schools for another year."

It followed also an enthusiastic round of applause from an audience of close to 100 who were largely in support of attacks against the present school budget policy, and it came after the reading of a resolution which would fix the city's school tax rate at $22.44 per thousand.

The aldermen heard also, before the move to recess, the reading of a letter from the Ulster County Real Estate Board which asked for "more representative" control by local government over the Board of Education. It held that the present system amounted to "taxation without representation."

A similar charge came from Alderman Victor H. Roth of the 12th Ward, who drew applause when he stressed the point that the Board of Education is only an appointed body while the aldermen represent the people.

This policy, he said in effect, is virtually "taxation without representation," and he added, "I think something should be done about it."

Deputy City Clerk Harry C. Seitz then read the letter from the real estate board which held that a "serious situation" was resulting of the "tremendous increase" in the school tax.

The letter stressed the point that the increase is nearly $5 for every $1,000 in assessed valuation and that it may be assumed that it is not stopping here but will be even higher in years to come.

It held that most taxpayers are small home owners and many bought properties with G. I. loans. Such a trend in taxes, it said, will not only discourage the desire to own a home, but may also cause many to lose their properties.

The board explained that it felt that the education system "is the bulwark of our way of life," and that it was not opposed to adequate schools and a fair rate of pay for teachers.

The city charter, said the letter, virtually allows the board to be independent and it stressed the point that it is an appointed body with each member appointed by the mayor for a five year term.

Unresponsiveness Charged. It held that the board is "unresponsive to public opinion" and that there is no check or control upon its actions. It added that since the board alone can determine the budget and the amount of taxes to be levied, that in effect it represents a system of "taxation without representation."

The letter stressed also that while it may be the law that a public hearing on the budget is not required, it is a "flagrant violation" of democratic principles not to have one when a 25 percent tax increase is involved.

A point was made in the letter also on the "ambitious" building proposals of the board, and it charged that if this "wildly publicized" program is put into effect, it would cause the school tax to exceed the general tax.

The board said it had resolved

The World Today

AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
The United States government has just issued its first official statement of policy governing Germany since the war, and takes the stand that a stable and productive Germany is necessary to make Europe orderly and prosperous.

This historic statement is in the form of a directive to the American occupation force in Germany. It instructs Lieut. Gen. Clay, American zone commander, to exert every effort to achieve economic unity with other zones, and says highest priority should be given to increased production of coal, food and export goods.

The greatest importance must be attached to this declaration in view of the increasing gravity of the European economic crisis. It is a situation which is going to be worse before it can start to get better. It is the graphic warning of French Premier Ramadier "the hour has come for Europe to organize or die."

The United States directive takes on particular significance in view of the approaching Anglo-American conference in Washington to discuss methods for increasing the all-important coal production of the Ruhr upon which economic recovery not only of Germany but of Europe depends so heavily. That conference is likely to pivot on a showdown between the two countries over the British Socialist governments' insistence on nationalization of the Ruhr coal mines. The United States has opposed this, and the other day proposed that nationalization be deferred for five years. Washington takes the view that nationalization is a question for the German people to decide.

Of course it's easy to understand why a Socialist government, which ranks nationalization as one of its cardinal beliefs, should want to see it carried out in Germany and elsewhere. It will be surprising, however, if an ideological argument is allowed to signify an agreement for German recovery. After all, while the British Socialist government believes it is on the right economic road at home, it still has to demonstrate it. We are dealing with a theory and not a demonstrated fact.

However, I judge that there's more to the British stand than that revolving about the ism. Britain doesn't want to see the riches of the Ruhr revert to the control of the war-mongering Prussian Junkers. What with its coal, and the vast Krupp armament works, the Ruhr was the material main-spring of German aggression.

When it comes down to the question of the Prussian war-lords getting control of the Ruhr again, surely there can be small ground for dispute among the Allies. One of the main objectives of the war was to put Prussianism out of business. Still, nationalization isn't the only method of handling this situation. International control might turn the trick, and it seems a fair guess that something along that line will come up for serious consideration at the Washington conference.

Certainly things can't go on as they are now in the Ruhr. Coal production has fallen off dangerously, and it must be stimulated by new methods. On that basis we are entitled to expect Britain and America to reach a quick agreement.

If these two major powers can't agree over Germany, what's the use of saving the countries of western Europe to reach an accord over economic reconstruction of the Continent.

Danube Gypsies Are Unchanged in Hungarian Realm

They Survived Nazi Curse, Because Own Folk Didn't Send Them to Gas Deaths

By DANIEL DE LUCE

Budapest (AP)—Neither war nor peace has changed the gypsy realm on the Danube.

Within its frontiers are the nocturnal luxury of Budapest cafe society and the mud hovels beside dusty country roads.

Dinner-jacketed musicians are its aristocracy, shoeless herdsmen its proletariat.

All know the gypsy language, fear tribal superstitions and feel themselves one with their forefathers who reeked into Hungary in a shadowy migration about six centuries ago.

They are a people who survived the Nazi curse. Adolf Hitler planned to exterminate all gypsies in German-occupied Europe. His doctors killed them in pseudo-scientific experiments in concentration camps.

But Hungarians, after their fashion, avoided shipping the native "Gigany" to SS gas chambers. A hundred thousand gypsies add color and melody to Magyar life today.

White-mustached Bela Berkas, whose father was a court musician for Emperor Franz Josef, is now a king of gypsy violinists.

His fingers dance in oriental abandon as he plays "As a Szepe Akinek A Szeme Kek" ("Pretty to me is she whose eyes are blue").

His white teeth gleam in a smile at the elegant diners at "Tuzek's" on Queen Vilma street. He has gypsy magic that makes the heart beat faster.

He earns, with tips, as much as 1500 forints ($127.90) in a month, conveyed to the bank by a note of 1100 forints ($93.80) of a Hungarian cabinet minister.

But after the last gay flourish of his bow, Berkas' dark eyes become brooding.

"More and more Hungarians prefer American jazz," he said. "I wish we had more American tourists. They prefer gypsy violins."

No Fault of Elites
The lack of tourists is neither the fault of Hungary nor of the Soviet Control Commission. It is much more difficult for an American to obtain permission from U. S. military authorities to pass through Austria to Hungary, than it is to enter Hungary itself.

Berkas made 12 trips to the United States before the war and the names of those he entertained included Astor, Aldrich, Harriman and Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr. His daughter-in-law and grandson now live in Astoria, L. I. His son disappeared during the battle of Budapest.

"Sometime before I die, I shall go to America again," the 58-year-old master said.

Less than 30 miles from Budapest, a cluster of gypsy mud huts at Ersek tipifies the way most "Gigany" apart from 4,000 music-makers, exist even today.

Geese lumber across the littered yard and a bony horse nunches free grass on the river bank. Josef Ignace, a wood carver, works all day hacking out a kitchen bowl from a tree trunk and hopes it will sell for as much as a dollar.

Ignace can not pick out a tune on a violin or tell a fortune. But wanderlust burns like a fever under his ragged shirt.

Sometime he will harness his horse and wagon and set out, not for the towers of Manhattan, like a violinist, but for Iskun-laczaza or Szekszard or wherever else Hungary looks greener to a gypsy artisan.

to establish the club suit first, and found the five-one break, it would have been too late to establish the diamond suit because the additional entry needed would have been lost.

West won the opening lead with the ace of hearts and returned a heart, which "Doc" won in dummy with the queen. He cashed the ace and king of diamonds and ruffed a diamond, which assured the establishing of a diamond trick.

"Doc" then cashed the king of clubs, went over to dummy's ace of clubs, and discarded one of his spades on the club queen. Now he ruffed another diamond in his own hand, ruffed a spade in dummy with the high heart, and discarded his last spade on the fifth diamond.

Pact Reported Signed

Budapest, July 16 (AP)—Budapest newspapers said today that a Russian-Hungarian trade pact had been signed in Moscow. The terms were not given. Minister of Justice Istvan Rics, currently in Moscow, was quoted as reporting that the agreement was signed in close connection with the economic agreement network which is making closer the friendship of the European peoples' democracies.

County's Quota Is 60 Men for Navy

Five Men Monthly Can Be Signed for Service

The quota for regular navy in Ulster County for the fiscal year of 1948 which began July 1, is 60 men according to Chief Quartermaster Steve Smith in charge of navy recruiting here. The allotment per month will be five men.

July's quota has been filled by Donald Hastings, 29 Park avenue; Irvin Van Gaasbeck, 132 Murray street; Edward Anderson, Saugerties; Robert Mance, Ellenville; Edward Corliss, 38 Abnott street. Additional men will be enlisted if other substitutions or main stations fail to fill their quotas. The substitution, Room 209, Post Office Building, Broadway, will be kept open as usual every Thursday afternoon from 1 to 5 p. m. for the fiscal year of 1948. Chief Smith points out that the small quota assigned to the county should not keep men from submitting applications.

A regular naval reserve recruiting officer will accompany the local navy recruiter at the Post Office this Thursday afternoon. All men who have not officially made out applications for enlistment for voluntary naval reserve inactive duty are asked to contact Chief William Stokes, Naval Reserve Recruiter at the local substitution.

Freer Is Given 60 Days in County Jail

John Freer, 47, of Woodstock, who was arrested by Deputy Sheriff William Frost on a charge of assault, third degree, yesterday, was tried before Justice of the Peace Joseph Fitzsimmons, of that village, last night, and sentenced to 60 days in the county jail.

Freer, who was arrested on a warrant issued by Fitzsimmons naming Alice Freer, his wife, as the complainant, entered a plea of guilty.

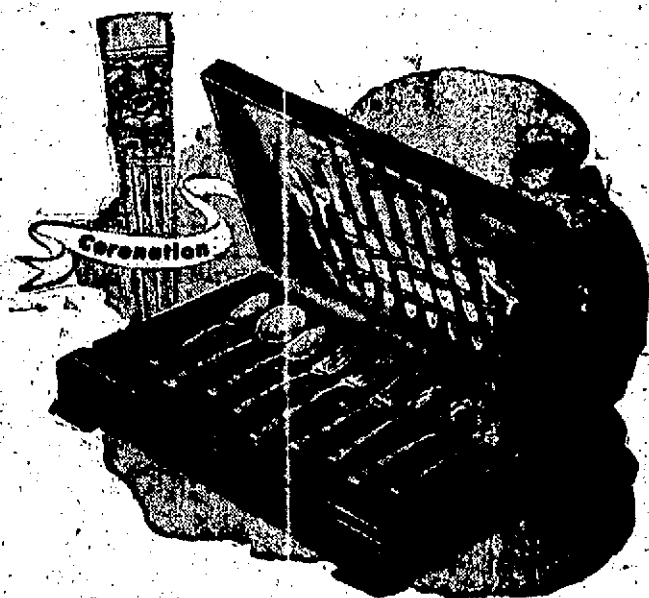

Following the trial, Freer swore out a warrant for the arrest of his wife, charging her with assault, third degree.

Deputy Sheriff Harry Keator arrested Mrs. Freer, and upon arraignment before Justice Fitzsimmons she was given a 30 days suspended sentence and placed on a six months' probation.

'ABO' Turns Religious

Nobody is more enthusiastic than an aborigine when he takes up religion, say the people of New Queensland, Australia. On the Sabbath even breathing and such natural functions are performed with extreme reluctance. If one mentions dancing, singing, or any form of work, the outraged native shrinks back in horror. On a recent Sunday afternoon, a fire swept the rear of a village while the dusky inhabitants were at afternoon service. Poultry, pigs and other livestock were roasted alive but not one "abo" left the church to go to their assistance, Melbourne reports.

Autopsy Is Authorized

Astoria, Ore., July 16 (AP)—An autopsy was authorized here today for Jimmie Lunceford, 45, band leader, who collapsed and died at nearby Seaside Saturday.

With cause of death undetermined, officials previously refused to release the body for shipment to funeral services in New York city. District Attorney Garnet Green said there was no suspicion of foul play and would not order an autopsy. The widow, Mrs. Crystal Lunceford, White Plains, N. Y., finally authorized it. Lunceford, whose band played at Seaside Saturday night, collapsed in the afternoon at a record shop.

U. S. Calls Parley To Work on Draft Of Japanese Peace

Washington, July 16 (AP)—The United States has called an 11-nation conference here August 19 to begin work on a peace treaty for Japan.

A State Department press official, disclosing this today, described the meeting as a "preliminary" one to be devoted to "technicalities" of drawing up the pact. The work of completing a draft undoubtedly will require months.

The department official told a reporter that member nations of the Far Eastern Commission have been asked to attend but gave no further information about the invitations.

The Far Eastern Commission, which makes policy decisions concerning Japan, is composed of Australia, Canada, China, France, India, the Netherlands, New Zealand, the Philippines, the United Kingdom, the Soviet Union and the United States.

Lady O'Malley Appears in Court

Victoria's Kin Said She Misunderstood Ways of U. S. Banking

New York, July 16 (AP)—Statuesque Lady Iris Mountbatten O'Malley, 27, who like King George VI of Great Britain is a great-grandchild of Queen Victoria, appeared in Night Court last night in a check case which she said arose from her misunderstanding of American banking practices.

Lady Iris, who came to this country last October and said she has entered publicity work, was arrested by police at the apartment of a friend on a Washington, D. C., warrant accusing her of issuing a worthless check for $88.95 in payment for "two dresses." After arraignment, conducted privately before Chief Magistrate Edgar Bromberg, she was released in custody of Sir Francis Evans, British consul general here, for a hearing next Tuesday.

The reddish-blond Englishwoman told police she did not know that it was an offense to issue a check without sufficient funds in the bank to cover it, and that in England the bank would communicate with the person writing such a check and direct that the overdraft be covered.

Lady Iris said she had retained the name O'Malley after her divorce from Capt. Hamilton O'Malley of the Irish Guards, whom she married in 1941. She is the only daughter of the Marquess and Marchioness of Carisbrooke, and a cousin of Lord Louis Mountbatten, viceroy of India.

Hawaiian Strike Is Ended Abruptly

Honolulu, July 16 (AP)—The strike in Hawaii's $65,000,000 pineapple industry ended today as abruptly as it began six days ago. Federal Labor Conciliator Nathan P. Feinsinger announced that the C.I.O. Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union had called off the strike and that the industry had agreed to reopen contract negotiations immediately.

I.L.W.U. Chief Harry Bridges said workers would return to their jobs at noon.

The accord between the union and industry leaders after five turbulent days brought peace once again to the territory and ended the threat that the strike might spread throughout other major industries to cripple seriously the entire economy of the islands.

When negotiations are resumed, the industry will stand on its offer of a 10-cent hourly pay boost and the union will proceed with a demand for a 15-cent increase. Base pay is 80 cents for men and 70 cents for women.

Trial of Actress, Men To Begin July 31

Los Angeles, July 16 (AP)—Trial of actress Faye Meredith and three men charged with kidnaping and assaulting her former manager, Nicholas Gianacis, has been set for July 31 in Superior Court.

The state alleged that Damon Klimesberger, Albert Tucker and James Hatfield abducted, beat and robbed Gianacis, a restaurant supply dealer, and his companion, Verne Davis, on June 30 at Miss Meredith's instigation.

She and Gianacis, who claims to have "discovered" Miss Meredith and started her in films, had been in litigation over some property. She is at liberty under $5,000 bond. Bail was set at $10,000 each for her three co-defendants.

Woman Is Shot

Mineola, N. Y., July 16 (AP)—Mrs. Lillian C. Gresh of Glen Head was shot in the stomach accidentally yesterday during a surprise party on her 28th birthday given by her brother, Patrolman Henry Kohan-ski, at his Port Washington home. Nassau Hospital attendants reported her condition remained critical today. Police Inspector Stuyvesant Pinnell said that several children at the party milled around Kohanski and one, a four-year-old niece of the victim, pulled his service revolver from his holster and accidentally pulled the trigger.

SUMMER HEALTH RULES

In the lovelorn languid days of summer, skies are blue, clouds float high. Vacation time has come when children romp the live-long day with no thought of school or rigid schedules. But for parents it is a fearsome time, too. For years now, mid-summer months that used to be so carefree carry the dread threat of the little-known but increasingly prevalent infantile paralysis. Epidemics have swept localities, leaving victims by the hundreds in all parts of the country to battle the long way back to health for years ahead.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis issues its annual warning that this disease in children often resembles common ailments at first, its onset marked by a cold, fever, nausea, headache and muscular stiffness. Such signs indicate that a physician should be sent for at once.

Medicine knows little about the cause of the affliction, but urges against undue fatigue, and against swimming in pools whose waters may be polluted. Flies are accused of harboring the virus, so a war on them is indicated as well as a campaign for covered garbage cans and cleanliness generally.

One of the most important protective habits is the washing of all raw fruit thoroughly before eating. Apples and pears should be washed at all times, should be pared from now until frost. Not casually dipped in water, but really washed and their skins wiped with a clean towel or soft paper. Some of the specialists in the disease suspect that the virus lives on the skins of fruits. They are not quite sure, but it's well to take no chances. Fruits, too, are sprayed, nowadays, with preparations poisonous to bugs. Washing them protects people.

There is no need for parents to become tense and alarmed, but great need cheerfully and thoroughly to observe precautions and general health principles.

"It must be grand," says the fellow at the next desk, "to go junketing and observing around the world, the way our profession has been doing lately."

EDEN SINGS OUT

Predicting that funds lent by the United States and Canada would run out by the end of the year, Anthony Eden, speaking in the House of Commons recently, said that when that happened Britain's only recourse would be their gold reserve. As to the Marshall plan he had this to say:

"If this offer should encourage continuation of our present wholly artificial basis for refusing to face the facts, then the breathing space it may give us will prove to be rather less than a blessing. We cannot afford to become the permanent pensioners of the U.S.A. We have a role of our own to play as a great empire."

These words have a fine, ringing sound, in the midst of all the hedging and backing and filling, and the bristling truculence of some European leaders. Eden's speech represents the true spirit of Britain. Independence and self-reliance, along with a fighting spirit, have brought the right little, tight little island through many bad times, and may be counted on to bring it through this one.

There are too many citizens in this country who think they have a divine right to exercise a veto on everything they don't like.

A PEACH YEAR

With more than the usual crop of troubles snarling the food market, there is one very pleasant prospect ahead. That is a bountiful harvest of peaches indicated by the look of trees at the moment. The spring that came late and brought continued rain decreased plantings and discouraged many a commercial and home gardener so much that vegetables may be scarce in some sections this autumn. But the same rain seems to have been beneficial to fruit, peaches in particular.

And what is better than a peach—except possibly two peaches? Fresh from the tree or canned they are food for the gods, and men appreciate them, too. For the first time

THE DIFFICULTY AT PARIS

When the British were negotiating their great loan, Bernard Baruch, who has always been their friend, went to that country to tell them that it was an unwise and unnecessary step. At that time, Churchill was still in command and in his presence, Baruch and John Maynard Keynes got into a row over the economics of the loan as well as over the general economics of Great Britain.

On that occasion, Baruch strongly advised the British that the loan of $3,750,000,000 would not help them; that they would serve themselves more advantageously if they increased their productivity by longer hours of work and greater expenditure of energy. This ran counter to Keynes's socialism and the general trend towards nationalization.

In due course, Churchill was eliminated, Keynes died, and Baruch went to London with anti-Americanism, got the loan, wasted most of it and is now in an extremely difficult position. Actually, as Herbert Morrison, Lord President of the Council, has at last publicly admitted, Britain needs another loan. He said: "We cannot go on indefinitely importing what we cannot pay for, and I must tell the House quite frankly that it may come to this—and a tragically bad day it would be for us, for Europe and the world's hopes of prosperity."

To this must be added the fact that Britain's prosperity is still based upon the prosperity and well-being of the continent of Europe. As long as German industry is moribund, the prosperity of Europe cannot be established. As long as Germany is in political and economic chaos, Britain does not have a chance of well-being. Germany is the economic heart of Europe and if the heart is sick, the rest of the body will not function well. This Herbert Hoover made clear in his reports on Europe.

Our government dare not face this problem openly and candidly for obvious domestic political reasons. The war with Germany is too recent. Too many Americans fear a reconstructed Germany. Too many Americans are afraid of a Germany which means World War 2, although in recent months many have come to recognize what has been true since 1920: that our eventual enemy must be Soviet Russia.

At any rate, the politicians are not willing in an election year to admit that the real purpose of all the maneuvering at Paris is the reconstruction of Europe with Germany at the center. That is what we are getting at. Even in the State Department, there are those who still cling to the barbarous Morgenthau Plan and the monstrous directive JCM 1067, but generally, those who are handling the problem recognize that costly errors were made at Yalta and Potsdam that require rectification. Even they fear the big city vote, particularly in race-conscious New York, to speak the truth.

All this the Russians understand. They use every means to force this country into a position of frank support of a reconstructed Germany. They recognize Britain's embarrassment and dilemma and they are forcing the British into frankness. Then the Russians will tell all the nations that suffered at the hands of the Nazis that they live within the shadow of Nazi brutality, that they have been abandoned by the United States and Great Britain who are rebuilding Germany to crush them again. In this role, Soviet Russia becomes the great liberator.

The American people are not accustomed to playing at this sort of game. They did not understand the stand the crooked ruler, they will fail to see the stand in success is a canard. Germany must be reconstructed economically if aid to Britain and Europe is not to be an everlasting drain upon us. It takes courage for a politician to tell the truth—but there have been courageous politicians.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

DIZZINESS

Many may wonder just how we keep our bodies balanced in the upright position. In a general way, we may know that the muscles in the front of the body pull us forward and the back muscles pull us backward, so that working together the front and back muscles hold the body in the upright position. However, there are two other factors helping us to stand erect—that is, the eyes as we look about us and not our relation to the various objects, and the balancing mechanism of the inner ear.

In the "Canadian Medical Association Journal," Dr. J. Houghton Ross, Sask., states that the most important of the three mechanisms or methods of retaining our balance is the balancing canals in the inner ear. Anything that causes irritation or destruction of any portion of this part of the ear may bring on true vertigo (dizziness).

Dizziness may be the only symptom present but as the disease develops or increases in severity, other symptoms such as head noises and partial loss of hearing may occur. Dizziness of the auditory nerve, or loss of hearing can be measured. The head noises may be of a double nature: a high-pitched continuous sound present at all times, and a secondary pounding or roaring type becoming worse when a paroxysm (sudden increase of symptoms) occurs.

What may be causing irritation of the lining of the balancing canals, thus causing the dizziness? Infection—teeth, tonsils, sinuses, gall bladder—may be a cause and poisons, such as alcohol, and quinine being sensitive to various substances—may likewise be a cause.

I have written several times of the large number of cases of dizziness, often with nausea and vomiting (Meniere's disease), caused by use of too much salt and liquids taken into the system.

Other causes of dizziness, as we grow older, are hardening of blood vessels and chronic ear diseases. If you get dizzy at times, don't try to treat yourself. See your family physician first, and if he thinks it necessary he will refer you to an ear specialist.

Neurosis

Neurosis—believing you have a physical ailment when none exists—is becoming increasingly common. Send today for Dr. Barton's booklet on this subject entitled, "Neurosis." To obtain it, just send 10 cents and a 3-cent stamp, to cover cost of handling and mailing, to The Bell Syndicate, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, Post Office Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y., and ask for your copy.

In years, home canners will be able to put them up, since sugar, while its supply is not guaranteed, promises to allow at least a limited amount of kitchen preserving.

So the next time some one starts in to bemoan the high cost of food, which will probably be soon, start talking about peaches. They should be reasonable in price, and abundant. There can't be too much wrong with a country that can produce plenty of peaches, peaches and cream, peach pie, peach cobbler, peach shortcake, peach butter and canned and pickled peaches!

In some parts of the country they're looking for another Ark and Ararat.

The Underdog

AS PEGLER SEES IT So They Say...

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, July 15—Beginning about the time of the exposure last winter of Leo Durocher's relations with accredited members of the underworld of the amusement field, which includes some professional sports, I noticed among some of the journalists who specialize in these interests a reaction which puzzled me. They seemed to resent statements that such an underworld existed, as though they had an interest in preserving the fair name of radio entertainment, the night club business and the moving picture industry.

From the professional standpoint, I thought all of them had a duty to expose this underworld, even though this should call for some dog work, some professional skill and indifference to personal friendships or enmities in business.

However, it has seemed to me for a long time that many of these pundits have been more ambitious to become celebrities themselves, however dubious, than to succeed as conventional newspaper reporters. Celebrity, even the self-made kind who praise and advertise themselves, emphasize their charities and appeal to religion for popularity, are able to cash in as broadcasters and as entertainers of a peculiar sort, called masters of ceremonies, and so forth.

Ed Sullivan, a columnist who follows this line of journalism for the New York Daily News, is a celebrity of this type. It may be my misfortune, but I have never seen him perform in any theatre although I have read hundreds of papers which seem to me, in his own column, little free advertisements of his own theatrical act and a side-long tribute to his inextinguishable zeal in entertaining wounded soldiers at Halloran Hospital on Staten Island and in other hospitals.

Once he related in a mood of justified hope, heroism, that on a dark and brooding morning he had bombed Germany with his showmen from Broadway, followed, their fears and took off nevertheless in a plane for a hospital a few hundred miles down the Atlantic coast, because they simply couldn't let those wounded kids down. Soldiers who had flown The Hump and the Atlantic and had bombed Germany, now this and remarked, "Gad! What courage!" But observed that they had not been proportionately cited for adventures hardly less dangerous.

On a recent date, Mr. Sullivan's column consisted of an open letter to his secretary. This was an unusual device. Usually his secretary writes to him and in this way is able to congratulate him on his remarkable feats of exclusive journalism and prophecy and thank him for kindnesses to others; which he might not have the intelligence to mention, although modesty is not his worst fault.

In this letter to his secretary, Mr. Sullivan wrote his secretary all of us to read. "They flung them because Sinatra was interested enough to give up his spare time to persuade kids to be nice to minority groups. Now just what is wrong with that?"

I am not obtuse so I assume that this refers to some news concerning Sinatra published within the last year which deviated from the laudatory and purposely rapturous trash which had become standard Sinatra publicity as turned in by the saloon, movie, radio, and gambling house journalists. His interesting associations in Miami and Havana last winter were reported at the time, although not by these exquisite and, toward the end of the season, this ill-mannered hoodlum was arrested for slugging a man who wasn't looking in a Hollywood restaurant. The prosecution was dropped later when the victim observed that he was about to be "testified out of court" or payment by Sinatra of substantial personal damages and with a stipulation that the assault was unprovoked. Sinatra had been found incapable of carrying a gun against the formidable foes of tolerance and "minority groups" in the war. Afterward, however, he had been licensed to carry a pistol for use against unidentified enemies in his own country in time of peace. This license was revoked after the assault.

Mr. Sullivan's extraordinary sympathy for Sinatra in these circumstances naturally aroused my interest for I believed the tolerance and youth rackets were being invoked in a way that I could think of as only a shade less than blasphemous to create an artificial political character. I had been pointing out and proving the interlocking relationship between many of the entertainers of the movies, the radio and the night clubs, and gangsters who have established financial and social positions in this fabulously rich realm of our country. Mr. Sullivan has long seemed to me to be willing to go to the gutter to find a hero. He is a professional name-dropper, a grown up but still cullow Saturday night sport in his first long pants, ogling the tough-guys of the low poolroom and the blue-jowled heavyweights of the stock company as he loves the theatre by the stage door after "East Lynne" or "Salome Jane." He mentions famous names, with a subtle boastfulness, like the oafs who shook the hand of John L. Sullivan.

What else he is and whether his motives and interests are as naive as I hope you may judge from another chapter of these exercises tomorrow.

Truth About New Labor Law Is Reported Coming to Light; Wagner Act Not Destroyed
By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, July 16—The truth about the new labor law is coming out slowly. The American Federation of Labor, in a bulletin from its own legal department to member unions, frankly admits that the Wagner Act has not been destroyed. It says:

"The five employer unfair labor practices contained in Section 8 of the original Wagner Act are preserved in the same language in the new act."

The bulletin then argues that certain "protections" have been whittled down, but these were not in the original Wagner Law at all but were National Labor Relations Board interpretations of certain minor points in the law. Then the A.F.L.'s legal counsel says:

"With the foregoing exceptions, the protections against unfair labor activities of employers remain much the same as they were under the original Wagner Act, and the previous board decisions are applicable."

This statement will come as a surprise to that portion of the public which has been led to believe, the Wagner Act had been destroyed. The "exceptions" noted by the A.F.L. are matters still within the judgment of the Labor Relations Board and they constitute interpretations, such as statements made by employers against unions which are really protected under the free-speech clause of the constitution.

None of the labor organizations, moreover, is telling the employees that the workers now have been protected by the law to say what they please about unions without being punished by the union. So far, in a formal statement, has explained the new rights of the employees thus:

"Question. Does the new act give an employee any additional rights?"

"Answer. Yes. He is protected from coercion by labor unions and their agents. He is protected from his union even if there is a union-shop contract. He is given a definite right to insist on non-discriminatory treatment, from any welfare fund established. He is protected from personal legal liability for the illegal acts of labor organizations. Other protection is given against both employers and union leaders."

"Question. Does the new act give individual workers more voice in the running of their unions?"

"Answer. The new act does not police the internal affairs of unions, but it does require the union to give full information regarding its methods of election, methods of operation and financial transactions. A knowledge of these facts will give individual workers more opportunity to express their opinion. They are more free to express their opinion and urge policies contrary to the wishes of the union leaders because, although the union may expel them, they would still be entitled to hold their jobs even in a union-shop contract."

(Reproduction rights reserved)

"Question. Does the new act still entitle to reinstatement in a company case before the Labor Relations Board? Moreover, the Board, since the union was moving force, can order the union to compensate him for the loss of wages."

"Question. Does the new act give individual workers more voice in the running of their unions?"

"Answer. The new act does not police the internal affairs of unions, but it does require the union to give full information regarding its methods of election, methods of operation and financial transactions. A knowledge of these facts will give individual workers more opportunity to express their opinion. They are more free to express their opinion and urge policies contrary to the wishes of the union leaders because, although the union may expel them, they would still be entitled to hold their jobs even in a union-shop contract."

Bride Was Upset Over Money Affairs

New York, July 16 (AP)—Mrs. Faye Ann Crow, 20-year-old British beauty who ran away from her Columbus, O., home last Thursday, was located last night in Long Island exhausted from a hitch-hiking jaunt she began with only $1.50.

Mrs. Crow refused to discuss with reporters her reasons for the trip to the home of her aunt, Mrs. Violet Duncan at Bayside, L.I.

Her 23-year-old husband, Ralph, an ex-army air force corporal, said at Columbus, O., where there had been no quarrel, their inability to go into housekeeping and to remain out of debt, had posed major marital problems since she came here from England last February.

Her aunt said she arrived here Monday afternoon, tired and upset after a long hitch-hiking from Columbus.

"She was afraid to sleep on the way," Mrs. Duncan said. "Her shoes were worn out from walking, her nerves frayed from loss of sleep and the anxiety of her experience."

Mrs. Duncan said the British girl "still is too tired and upset to do much planning, but I believe she'll return to her husband." She married Crow in England in 1945.

The aunt said Faye Ann arrived Monday and sent a telegram to her husband advising him of her whereabouts.

At Columbus, Crow said she would await the arrival of a letter before deciding what to do. "It all depends," she said, "on what she says in the letter."

A nation-wide dragnet is being spread for missing milk bottles. Dairy men estimate that about 25,000,000 containers have gone into hiding, lurking in cellars, in corners of back porches, and under stairways. They are badly needed, the industry says. People are consuming about a third more milk than they used to, and this makes the shortage even more acute. So if you see any standing around doing no one any good call your delivery man or retail merchant.

In Toronto (Thomas Richard Henry, in Toronto Telegram.)

A nurse got off the street car in the east end of the city. A nicely dressed girl. "Do you mind if I walk with you, I have $40 in my purse and I am nervous."

The nurse said, "Certainly, but you are foolish to carry $40 around with you. I only carry a car ticket and ten cents for a cup of coffee."

The girl said, "I just can't help it, it was given to me tonight."

A few minutes after a car drew up to the curb behind them and a door opened.

The nicely dressed girl said, "She's only got a dime and a car ticket, Joe, then climbed in and the car drove away."

The nurse stood watching the departing car with very mixed emotions.

Man—My wife says that if I die she will remain a widow.

Friend—Evidently she thinks there's not another man like you.

Man—No, she's afraid there is.

Polite Visitor—"Oh, what a cute little rascal your son is."

Mother—"Yes, he sort of takes after his father."

Polite Visitor—"Oh, is your husband cute, too?"

Mother—"No, but he's a rascal."

Insurance Agent—"Do you want a straight life?"

Prospect—"Well I'd like to step out once in a while."

Friend—Why did they evict the medical student from the library?

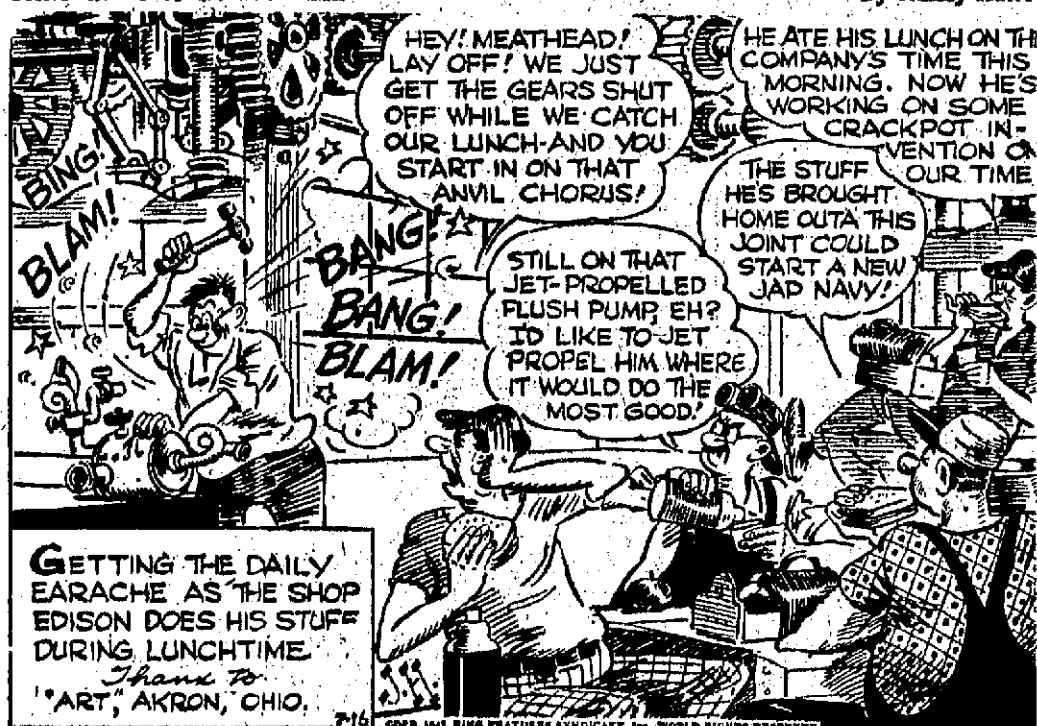

Librarian—They caught him removing the appendix from the book he was reading.

on four points; that the school tax was arbitrary, excessive and unwarranted, that a public hearing should be held on the budget, that a city law should make the public hearing mandatory and that there should be a change in the system so that the elected officials would have more control.

The letter was signed by Schuyler C. Schultz, president of the board, and F. Trowbridge Loomis, secretary.

Claremont Robert Morris, owner of the Huntington Hotel, speaking as a member of the real estate board, pointed to what he considered excessive provisions in the budget.

He figured an increase in the budget provision for salaries, exclusive of the mandatory increases for teachers of an estimated $25,000 over the previous year, and noted an increase of $13,000 for repairs. He asked if it were not possible to curtail the repair program.

Noting an additional $10,000 this year for architects' fees, he asked also if the item could not be cut inasmuch as building projects everywhere were being delayed.

The school cafeteria, he said, was allowed $15,000 a year ago but its needs in the new budget were set at $38,000. Some taxpayers, he felt, could not afford to feed the pupils at the rate of an estimated $23,000 increase. He also noted the fact that the auditor brought in a rental last year of only $200 and he felt that this could be a bigger source of revenue with effective study and effort.

He asked the councilmen to secure a recognition of their rights and of the rights of the people so that they might gain the knowledge and results they seek.

Alderman-at-large John Schwenk in opening the meeting said that he wished to correct the belief that it had never been the policy of the Board of Education to confer with the council. It had been the policy of the board in the past, he said, to confer with the Laws and Rules Committee of the council.

July 14, 1947

To the Common Council of the City of Kingston, N. Y.:

In considering the resolution adopted by your Honorable Body on July 8, 1947, requesting a further communication from the Board of Education with respect to the 1947-1948 school budget, and recommending that a public hearing be now held on said budget, it is necessary to remind you that there is no provision in the City Charter for such public hearing.

The budget having been twice unanimously and finally adopted by the Board of Education, it is now beyond the power of the Board to revise, reduce or otherwise change, amend or alter. Consequently, nothing could be accomplished by a public hearing at this time.

Although the proposed budget, setting forth in a detailed statement the various purposes of anticipated expenditures and the amount necessary for each to be raised for the ensuing year, was filed with you on June 30, 1947, and published in detail in the Kingston Daily Freeman, and, although you had until July 15th to consider it, you returned the budget to the Board of Education within forty-eight hours without reducing or revising such estimate, but solely upon the ground that it exceeded one per centum of the assessed valuation of the taxable real estate in the city. No other comment, complaint or criticism was made. Since your Honorable Body did not indicate by objection to or criticism of any item of the proposed budget, you must, therefore, have believed that no elimination of, reduction or revision could be made in any specific item.

To comply with the only objection you made to the estimate it would be necessary to reduce the budget by more than fifty per centum. The fact is that, if the budget were so reduced, every school in this city would have to be closed at the end of the first term, or earlier, with the resultant loss of State Aid. The further fact is that no item in the budget can be eliminated or reduced without seriously affecting the efficient operation of the schools for another year.

Complaint has been made that the Board of Education did not confer with the Common Council or its officers before submission of the budget for consideration. Suffice it to say that it has never been the custom to hold such consultation nor does the Charter provide for such procedure.

Although it requires months of conscientious consideration and tireless effort by the officers and members of the Board of Education to prepare the school budget for adoption within the statutory time, no request was made by any of your officers or members to discuss the budget with any officer or member of the Board of Education before its submission to you.

You are familiar with the reason that principally makes necessary the unusual increase in next year's budget. The increase over last year's budget is $194,510.20. Of that amount, $127,799.66, or 65%, approximately two-thirds of the total increase is for teachers' salaries, and was required to be included in said budget by the mandate of the Legislature. Would you suggest that the Board of Education disregard the mandate of the Legislature and the overwhelming public opinion by reducing the appropriation for teachers' salaries and other employees of the school system? Except for these special items and the general advance in the cost of materials and supplies, this year's tax rate would show but a normal increase.

The Board of Education prefers to believe that you were unaware of the Charter provision which states that when the original estimate is sustained by two-thirds of the members of the Board, as originally made and certified, it shall stand as if it had been approved by the Mayor and Common Council, which leaves the Board powerless at this time to revise, reduce, modify or amend the budget in any respect, rather than that you intentionally meant to mislead the public by suggesting that if a public hearing could now be held, the Board of Education could so revise, reduce, modify or amend said budget.

The members of the Board of Education are all taxpayers and deplore the necessity for increasing taxes just as much as all other taxpayers, but if our school system is to operate with at least a minimum of efficiency, as all fair-minded citizens desire, we assure you there is no item of the school budget for next year that can be eliminated or reduced.

Respectfully,
Board of Education,
Kingston, N. Y.

THE WEARING OF FLOWERS

It is always surprising that this most trifling of questions seems to cause unceasing perplexity. For example: "I do wish you'd set me straight about the correct way to wear flowers. There seems to be such a difference of opinion."

There is no rule. Most flowers look best when worn with their stems down, such is the way they grow. Sometimes when the flowers are very top heavy, such as weak-stemmed, heavy-headed rosebuds, they have to be either wired or arranged with heads down. A corsage is worn according to the becomingness of the outline of the dress against the background of the dress.

Dear Mrs. Post: Some weeks ago you advised the woman who wrote that her husband would not carve (and was embarrassed to do it herself in front of company) that it was best to serve a meat pie on a casserole dish. That answer, of course, assumed that the husband was willing at least to serve. But I have a husband who won't do even that. Could a casserole dish or a meat pie be handed around the table, followed by the vegetables?

Answer: Yes. In fact, this is the proper way to serve a casserole. It is impossible for the host to make the selection that is most pleasing to each person.

Difference in Mother's Dresses Not Important

Dear Mrs. Post: Would it be inconsiderate of me to wear a simple (but long) evening dress at my daughter's wedding, knowing that the groom's mother is going to wear a street-length day dress? Their environment is very plain and while ours is not formal, people do wear simple evening dress at evening weddings and receptions. I don't want to make the other mother feel out of place, but on the other hand, I can't quite picture myself following her example.

Answer: It is quite proper that you dress as you always do. I do think, however, that she should be told that you are wearing a long dress, just in case she wishes to do likewise. If she does not care to, the difference is really not important further than that two alike generally look better. But there would be no impropriety in her wearing a different length dress.

Have you wondered how you should begin a letter and how to bring it to a close? Mrs. Post's booklet No. 502, "The Etiquette of Letter Writing," is full of helpful information. To obtain a copy send 10 cents (coin preferred) and a 3-cent stamp to her in care of Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 12, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

Two County Areas Hit by Storm, but Damage Is Slight

Kerosene lamps and candle lights were burning in a number of Ulster and Greene county homes last night when power lines were hit by the electrical storm and circuits ceased to function.

The business office of the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation in Kingston informed the Freeman this morning that the storm was generally spread out over the entire area, but that actual damage reported was slight.

The Kerhonkson-Rosendale and Saugerties-Woodstock outlying districts reported isolated cases of downed power lines, according to the electric company, with no serious effects centralized in any specific locality.

The greater portion of damage, slight in most cases, occurred in isolated sections away from the towns and villages where the winds and rains attained maximum speed and felled small trees. In Tilton a large tree was uprooted, according to the local electric company, knocking down electric wires.

However, working crews were immediately assigned to the affected areas and by late last night most of the damage was cleared up and lines reopened.

Orchard Damage Slight
Walter Barron, assistant county agricultural agent, who made a tour of the county's various fruit orchards this morning, said that the trees suffered slightly. A minor hailstorm hit the orchard area around Esopus yesterday afternoon but produced no serious results.

State highways and county roads, especially Albany avenue and Route 9-W on the Saugerties-Kingston road were covered with approximately eight inches of water during the downpour, causing traffic to slow up considerably.

Cement Plant Damage
Superintendent Archibald Brown, at the Alpha Portland Cement Company, Cementon, said this morning that lightning struck a large condenser motor at the plant yesterday causing a brief stop of production. The damage was quickly repaired and work resumed as usual this morning.

A check with the Lake Katrine and Highland State Police, as also with the Saugerties police and Woodstock sources, revealed today that damage in the towns was very slight.

No Phone Interruption
No indications of serious damage due to the storm have been received as yet by the local telephone or electric companies, and police authorities report that they have no knowledge of serious accidents or mishaps caused either by the lightning or rains throughout the Ulster county area.

Financial and Commercial

New York, July 16 (AP)—Stocks generally took a breathing spell at slightly lower levels today although assorted market specials managed to keep on the recovery side.

Light selling again was attributed to the thought that the eight-weeks upswing called for a sizable technical correction. Inflationary sentiment was offset somewhat as a bullish factor by the idea that mounting staple and other prices may result in a boom-bust cycle. The European situation and waning tax-relief hopes served to restrain buyers. Dividends and earnings still were helpful.

Slowdowns were frequent after a fairly active opening but declines of fractions to a point or so predominated near the fourth hour.

Among issues touching tops for the year were Chrysler, which eventually slipped, Lion Oil and Bendix Home Appliances. Resistant were Allied Chemical, Texas Co., Great Northern Railway, International Telephone, Cerro de Pasco, Deere and Du Pont.

Inclined to stumble were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, U. S. Rubber, International Harvester, Douglas Aircraft, American Telephone, International Nickel, American Can, Philip Morris, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, Southern Railway, Southern Pacific, Pacific Western Oil, International Paper and Mission Corp.

Legislation Approved
Washington, July 16 (AP)—The House Education committee approved today legislation to cut law payment of the poll tax as a prerequisite to voting in elections for federal offices. Backed by the Republican leadership, the bill tentatively is scheduled for a House vote early next week, although there are no indications that the Senate will consider it this year.

Marshall Urges Action
Washington, July 16 (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall urged today that the United States admit a "substantial number" of Europe's 850,000 displaced persons, partly to remove a source of "conflict and friction" with Russia.

Harry Hintz Blanks Peekskill, 3-0, in 10-Inning Dodger Debut

New Righthander Fans 10 and Permits Only Four Safeties

Something new has been added to the Kingston Dodgers and, according to the Peekskill baseball Boswells it's strictly NG-for the rest of the North Atlantic League.

Thrown into the breach less than 24 hours after his transfer from the Olean club of the Pony League, Harry Hintz gave the Dodgers pitching corps a desperately needed lift last night, when he blanked the second-place Peekskill Highlanders, 3-0, in a 10-inning thriller before 700 fans on the downriver diamond.

Fans 10 Butters

Hintz fashioned a superb four-hitter, struck out 10 men and twice repulsed the 1946 champions with the bases loaded to debut in spectacular style. The big right hander was on the spot and the Dodgers, their lead whittled to 4½ games had their backs to the wall but Hintz responded with a performance that furnished a tremendous lift to sagging Dodger morale. The victory snapped a four-game losing skid and extended the local lead to 5½ games.

Eddie Moran, one of Al Gardella's aces, battled Hintz through nine scoreless innings only to crack in the tenth in a series of weird circumstances. The setback was Moran's first after four straight wins.

Kilsoo Sparks Rally
Chris Kilsoo singled to center to open the tenth and moved to second on Tom Corrigan's bunt. Moran tightened the noose around his neck with a pass to Hintz. Both runners moved up on a wild pitch. Kilsoo broke the scoreless deadlock when Kerr bunted to the pitcher and the Greek speedster beat the relay to the plate.

Hintz moved to third on the play and scored when Rosa singled to center. Kowalski, who had previously been robbed on a 400 foot clout, doubled deep to left center to make it 3-0, but was thrown out at the plate after the relay was juggled in the infield. Hintz yielded a single to Lukaski in the first inning and did not permit another safety until the eighth when the Peekskill third sacker tagged him for his second hit.

The Dodger righty made tempestuous Al Gardella the Peekskill manager, the goat on the two occasions the home club threatened.

Load Bases Twice
Peekskill loaded the bases with one out in the eighth but Hintz pitched brilliantly to get hard-hitting Joe DeToia to tap into a force play at home and then squelched Gardella on a change up pitch which he tapped to the mound. Gardella came up with two outs and the bases loaded in the ninth and tapped another harmless bouncer to Hintz on a jetup ball.

The new pitching find finished strongly, fanning two men in the crucial eighth and then retiring the side on strikes in the ninth. He yielded six bases on balls and

Record Gate Is Expected Tonight For Zale, Graziano

Chicago, July 16. (AP)—Tony Zale, world's middleweight champion, and Challenger Rocky Graziano, two of the greatest offensive fighters in the past 10 years, battle tonight before upwards of 20,000 spectators who will contribute to a record all-time indoor gate of around $450,000.

The contest in the Chicago Stadium is scheduled for 15 rounds or less—undoubtedly less, considering the punching prowess of both. No one, including Zale and Graziano, believes it will go the limit. The consensus of experts is that Zale will triumph within six rounds.

Zale at the age of 33 defends his title for the second time against the challenge of Graziano, 25. This will be an encore of the knockout-and-count Rocky-out thriller fought in New York last September in which Zale dragged himself off the canvas to win by a knockout in six savage rounds.

This rematch was scheduled for New York last spring, but the New York Athletic Commission failed to grant Zale's license for a rematch after an unsuccessful attempt by gamblers to bribe him with the result that the bout was switched to Chicago.

Zale is a favorite. Zale remained a steadfast 7-to-5 betting favorite. Always in excellent condition, Zale says he has trained to perfection and feels stronger now than he did before their first meeting. Zale is a tireless ringman and possesses the stamina to get off the canvas as he has demonstrated in previous battles and go on to win.

Graziano has trained harder and longer for tonight's battle than he ever did before. He considers his condition perfect and he expresses confidence of victory. This, however, could be his last major ring engagement since defeat by Zale would practically shove him out of the middleweight picture.

In the final summary, it will be age, fighting heart and experience versus youth. Graziano, with the advantage of youth, can punch with his right hand with terrific power and he is counting on knocking solidly with his right as quickly as possible. Zale has predicted he would land a knockout punch within six rounds. To this statement, Graziano replies: "He's crazy. Wait and see what happens. I'll knock him out in any round he falls. And it won't last more than one or two."

There is little to choose physically between these rivals. Zale may have a four or five pound advantage in weight, as was the case in their first brawl. He weighed 160 pounds to the challenger's 154 in their last bout.

Cordts and Union Split Twinbill
Those arch enemies in softball in the Ponckhockie five district—Cordts and Union—split a doubleheader, Sunday at Block Park.

In the opener, or "clutch" game, with a half of brew and sandwiches at stake, Cordts won 9 to 4. The nightcap, regarded as a "substitutes game" in which competitors ranged from 18 to 60, went to Union Hose, 8 to 7.

Cordts Hose enjoyed a breeze in the first game when such worthies as Ed, Emil and Charlie Bock, Hank Klein, Ed Schussler, Whitey Myers, Don Williams and Ed Lowe, were in the lineup.

Cordts challenges all fire companies in the area for Sunday games. Games can be booked through Ray Radel, 50 Adams street, phone 3025-M.

Madagascar, 10-1, Wins
Saratoga Springs, N. Y., July 16 (AP)—Madagascar, a 10-1 shot, scored an easy victory in the first division of the $3,500 Will Cahn Memorial Trot at the Saratoga raceway last night. Madagascar, owned by Mrs. William T. Maybury of Dexter, Me., and driven by Will Fleming, led all the way in the Grand Circuit event. Bayard Hanover from Lake Placid was second and Zaida Hanover, third. The winner, timed in 2:16 2/5 on a muddy track, paid $22.80 in the mutuels.

K.A.A. Nominates Officers
Nominations for 1947-1948 will be made at the monthly meeting of the Kingston Athletic Association tonight at the Elks Club at 8 o'clock.

President Thomas M. Davitt who yesterday announced that he is not a candidate to succeed himself, predicted a large attendance.

Several other important matters will be discussed, and plans will be made for the annual baseball promotion of the K.A.A. The nominating committee will report on its designation for a full slate of officers and six directors. Several names have figured in the speculation regarding Davitt's successor.

CLICKS FROM THE KEYBOARD . . . On a day when we would rather be at the old swimming hole. . . . Tommy Davitt, a big leaguer in everything he has ever undertaken, bows out as president of the Kingston Athletic Association on Wednesday, August 20. . . . The aggressive, fast-talking Irishman, who battled his way from blue clay and brick dust of East Kingston to a place on the original Kingston Colonials, and achieved an enduring niche in Kingston's baseball Hall of Fame, is relinquishing the post voluntarily, because he feels the organization can remain democratic and free of cliques, by restricting the tenure of office of the president.

Davitt has been the driving force behind the Kingston Athletic Association. . . . From the early days of the organization, he worked diligently with Dr. Francis O'Connor and others to achieve a record that speaks for itself. The Kingston Athletic Association has become an integral part of the community. It was organized as an outgrowth of the Jack Robins Memorial game between the Kingston Recreation and the Brooklyn Dodgers, a promotion unparalleled in the city's sports history. The K.A.A. has done a great job, mainly because of the vision, energy and ideals of Tom Davitt.

We like Tom Davitt because he is a square shooter, pleasantly free of hyperbry and the kind of man who battles until the last out in the ninth for any idea he champions. He has been criticized in many quarters for his stand against the Dodgers. Davitt never has been against the Dodgers. He took the stand he did because he felt that the municipal stadium should be for local baseball talent, first, last and always. Had he so desired, he could have made a perfect hypocrite of himself by playing both sides of the fence. It has been done, you know. He chose, however, to battle for the youth of Kingston, for the promotion and development of purely local talent. . . . Davitt felt that local semi-pro baseball should have had a chance to re-establish itself, since the Recreation committee conceded the drastic failure of the 1946 tailor-made, imported ball club. . . . Just how great was the loss in 1946 is something known only to a chosen few.

The K.A.A. will miss Tom Davitt as president. However, a place in the executive branch of the organization is assured him as long as he wishes. Whoever succeeds Davitt must do so with a keen appreciation of the job he did. It was terrific.

FLOTSAM AND JETSAM . . . Are no closer these days than Manuel Reina and James Berardi, the asphalt tycoon, an inseparable twosome. . . . Pity the legion of New York Giant fans in Kingston these days. . . . 31 innings without a big inning for their heroes, four out of five lost to the Cards and the pitching staff, shot, holes. . . . Ray Radell, second assistant foreman of Cordis Hose, says his softball club let Union Hose win the second game of their recent doubleheader, "out of respect to old age. . . ." "When the beer and sandwiches were on the line," Radell said, "It was strictly no contest." . . . Saw Frank Grimaldi, the Broadway tonsorial expert, at a recent Dodger game. . . . An interesting development to be sure. . . . You don't have to see him, just hear him laugh and you'll know it's J. Watson Bailey, the Wiltwyck golf sharpie. . . . Traveling miles with Herm Roosa, Ralph Gardiner and George Schick, we talked about all things golf. . . . Seen around town? "Flip" Komosa, the one-time Erigan A. C. Postmill twirler. "Flip" had one of the great curve balls of his era. . . . An invitation from Paul Joyce to tour Warren Townley's Woodstock golf course.

LIFE'S DARKER MOMENTS: A Colonial League hurler, Eddie Plowshay by name, had a little trouble with his control debuting with Stamford. . . . Although he went the distance and allowed only five hits in a 7-1 loss, he walked 10 Port Chester batters; hit 7 batters twice; tossed in two runs by hitting pitchers with pitched balls; hit three men in one inning. . . . Berardi Rally Wins Game, 8-7
Berardi's Oilers staged a heroic rally in the last two innings to overcome a 7-0 B'nai B'rith lead and snatch an 8-7 victory Monday in the City Softball League game at Hasbrouck Park.

Bob Finkle's walk, followed by successive hits by Martino, J. Berardi and Joe Watzka, an error and two outfield flies reduced the B'nai B'rith lead to 7-4.

With two out in the last of the seventh, the Oilers put on a story book finish to chase across four runs for the one-run triumph. Johnny Berardi homered into deep center with Martino and Finkle aboard and the deciding run crossed on Joe Watzka's single and Lou Berardi's two bagger.

By JOE REICHLER Associated Press Sports Writer

One of the American League's most majestic marks—the 19 consecutive victories by the Chicago White Sox, famous hitless wonders of 1906—was being seriously threatened today by the New York Yankees.

The onrushing Bronx Bombers now boast 16 straight wins and need only four more to shatter the record which has stood for the past 40 years.

The old Yankees of Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig, and Tony Lazzeri back in 1926 reached 16 but were stopped the next day. The 1912 Washington Senators, and 1931 Philadelphia Athletics went them one better, winning 17 straight each, but got no further. The Major League record of 26 straight by the New York Giants of 1916 still is too far off to be given any serious thought.

Beat Bob Feller
In winning both ends of a twilight-night doubleheader from the Indians in Cleveland before a huge turnout of 42,355 paid fans yesterday, 9-4 and 2-1, the Yankees not only had the satisfaction of prolonging their streak but got their 16th win at the expense of the great Bob Feller.

After the Yankees won the opener easily behind the 10-hit hulking of ex-Indian Allie Reynolds, the Indians went all out to halt the Yankees by leading with their strongest weapon—Feller. For eight innings the majors' strikeout king held the New Yorkers and Pitcher Floyd (Bill) Bevens even 1-1. But in the ninth, Joe DiMaggio reached base and with two out carried the all-important run over the plate when Billy Johnson rammed a triple. Bevens was the victim of Feller's no-hit masterpiece against the Yankees last year.

Blackwell Wins 14th
Another consecutive win, streak, perhaps more remarkable if not as spectacular as the Yankees' skid, belongs to Ewell Blackwell, Cincinnati's sensational stringbean righthander. Blackwell pitched his 14th straight victory last night as the Reds hit the .500 mark with a 6-4 win over the Phillies in Philadelphia. Al Jurisich was the loser.

Pittsburgh's last place Pirates handed National League leading Brooklyn a double setback, 12-4 and 9-3 in their twin bill at Ebbets Field. Led by Rookie outfielder Wally Westlake, who drove in seven runs with a base-clearing double and grand slam homer, the Bucs walloped four Dodger hurlers for 10 hits in the opener. They combed three more Brooklyn pitchers for 13 safeties in the nightcap.

Stranahan and Ward Are Western Favorites
Des Moines, Ia., July 1 (AP)—There was a familiar touch to first round match play today in the Western Amateur Golf Tournament—Frank Stranahan and Marvin (Bud) Ward, the No. 1 and No. 2 boys of '46, were the favorites.

Stranahan, the Toledo, O., sharpshooter, and Ward, out of the Far West, as a Spokane, Wash. representative, were back again as the recognized top players in a qualifying field of 64 players.

Yesterday Stranahan fired a 71, one under par for the Wagonia Club course in the second 18-hole qualifying round for a 144 total. It wasn't good enough, however, to catch his U. S. Walker Cup teammate.

Ward, who sizzled Wakonda for 68 in the opening 18 holes Monday, followed through with a 73 yesterday for a 141 total, good for medalist honors in the third straight western tournament for the curly-haired Bud.

Hofbrau-Chez Emile Contest Features Barnes vs. McElrath

Artie Barnes, of the Hofbrau, and Fink McElrath of Chez Emile, hook up in a pitching duel to decide one of the season's pivotal games in the City Baseball League this evening at the Athletic Field.

The defeated club will be virtually eliminated from the contention and this angle alone is expected to attract an overflow crowd to the Cornell street diamond.

Chez Emile has a record of 5 wins and 1 loss, while Hofbrau has won four out of five. Morgan's Restaurant is the third contender with one debit in the loss column.

Have Identical Records
Barnes has won three and lost one, dropping a 3-2 decision to Jones Dairy in the seasonal opener. McElrath has an identical record. Barnes, a strong armed right hander who overpowers right hand batters with a tricky sidearm delivery, has fanned 41 men, while McElrath has 34 strikeouts.

Yesterday's scheduled contest between Frank's and Morgan's was cancelled because of wet grounds.

Joe Louis Won't Defend His Title

New York, July 16 (AP)—Joe Louis, faced with a shortage of manpower in his own profession, seems destined to grow old gracefully by swinging a golf club.

The 33-year-old champion, who hasn't had a serious workout in the last six years of his decade on the heavyweight throne, has decided to forego a defense of his title this year because of the lack of any suitable opponents.

The Bomber flew into town yesterday, huddled briefly with his manager, Marshall Miles and the 20th Century Sporting Club's Sol Strauss, and then announced the cancellation of a tentatively scheduled September 19 bout in Yankee Stadium.

He consented, however, to engage in two ten-round, non-title bouts in Madison Square Garden in November and March. The winner of the July 25 Ezzard Charles-Elmer (Violent) Ray fracas and Olle Tandberg, the Swede who upset Joe Bakshi, may get the dubious distinction of climbing into the ring with Joe in the spring.

He previously had indicated he would like to have one more 15-round title bout next summer and then retire.

Scot Collapses, Chavez Hopes for Title Clouded Now

Glasgow, Scotland, July 16 (AP)—The twice-postponed world flyweight title fight between Champion Jackie Paterson of Scotland and Dado Marino of Honolulu was called off again today when Paterson failed to appear for the weigh-in ceremony.

Harry McGrattan, secretary of the British Boxing Board of Control, said Paterson had collapsed and was in bed with a nervous breakdown. Marino's manager, Sam Ichinose, said he would claim the flyweight title.

Al Chavez, west coast flyweight, doing preliminary training in Woodstock for a match with Paterson, may never get to meet the Scot late in August as originally scheduled.

Chavez, who appeared as a guest of B'nai B'rith at the organization's last boxing card in the municipal auditorium, has been anxious for a crack at the world's title, but whether he will get a chance now is uncertain.

Billy "Duke" West, Woodstock summer resident, who has an interest in Chavez, hasn't let him break training, however, even in the face of the big static mixup across the seas.

Want To Be Popular? Learn How To Dance

You see them at every dance and party—the forlorn girls who sit on the sidelines and wonder why they aren't more popular. The answer's obvious—their dancing is at fault. A pity, when it's so easy to learn the latest steps by home practice.

The basic rumba step, for instance, is merely a box step done in 4/4 time. Try it before a full-length mirror, swaying your hips subtly—avoiding any movement of upper body. On 1—Left foot to side. AND—Close with right. 2—Forward on left. Pause. 3—Right foot to side. AND—Close with left. 4—Forward (or back) on right. Pause.

Soon you progress to tricky turns and breaks, and before you know it, you're rumba-ing with the best of them.

Our Reader Service booklet No. 37 tells how to do the latest dance steps: the fox-trot, waltz, tango, rumba, samba and lindy hop. Dozens of actual photographs and helpful footprint diagrams. Written by an authority.

Greek Planes Battle 2,500 Leftists in Janina Trap

Athens, July 16 (AP)—Greek army planes hammered 2,500 leftist guerrillas trapped on the slopes of Mount Gamila north of Ioannina (Janina) today as three government brigades closed in for a show-down battle, military sources reported.

Army authorities said that precautions also had been taken against any new invasion on Greek soil. The authorities added that Greek intelligence reports disclosed there were six guerrilla concentration centers—three in Albania and three in Yugoslavia—from which new offensives could be launched. These reports said the largest of the three in Albania was at Leskovic, and that a hospital for the guerrillas was located there.

A source close to the general staff indicated last night that the field of the payoff battle in northwestern Greece probably would be near the villages of Yeroplatos and Vasilikon where, he said, the army had guerrillas surrounded. Vasilikon is only four miles from the Albanian frontier.

War Minister George Stratos reported the anti-government troops were halted yesterday in a drive on the Epirus capital of Ioannina, 19 miles to the south. "The irregulars, said Stratos, "cannot escape and have to give battle."

Reports Brigade Moving

He reported one brigade moving up from the south had stopped the guerrillas in their push for Ioannina, a city of 20,000, and two others coming down from the north had closed the trap from that direction. The air force, he said, had ferried in reinforcements, landing some of them on a field partly flooded by heavy rains.

(This indicated that Yeroplatos and Negrades might be on the northern and southern bounds of the same trap, which thus would be eight miles across.)

The general staff informant said two Greek brigades nine miles west of Yeroplatos had trapped another force of guerrillas beaten back Monday from the village of Konitsa, 25 miles north of Ioannina.

He made one report that some guerrilla forces in the Ioannina push had retreated up 7,000-foot Mount Gamila northeast of Negrades, and high military sources said this group probably would be cut to pieces in a few days. Stratos, who has pictured the current guerrilla offensive as an "invasion" aimed at setting up a Communist state, said 20 prisoners had told interrogators contingents of an "international brigade" were among the forces fighting the army.

He added that members of a United Nations Balkan subcommittee had become convinced that the offensive began in Albania. Stratos reported the subcommittee went back to its Salonika headquarters from the battle zone yesterday but would return to Konitsa to talk with prisoners.

Arms Concentration Reported. The war minister said the government had learned of big concentrations of arms and other supplies at three places in Albania and three places in Yugoslavia. Another source said many wounded guerrillas had been taken to an Albanian military hospital at Leskovic, some five miles back of the frontier.

(In London, a foreign office spokesman said last night that inquiries of British envoys in "various" countries "gave nothing to prove or disprove the international brigade's existence." Other sources said these countries included Italy, Albania, Yugoslavia and Bulgaria.)

(The Soviet News Agency Tass, in an Athens dispatch broadcast by the Moscow radio today and heard in London, said the alleged "international brigade" really was "groups of Partisans which advanced from the Grammos area and are moving southward" in an evident attempt "to cut off the Konitsa garrison from other government troops."

(A later Moscow broadcast, also heard in London, carried a Tass-dispatched dispatch of the official Albanian Telegraph Agency which denied that any "international bridge" had crossed from Albania into Greece.

(This dispatch attributed reports of such a force to "certain foreign news agencies and a number of foreign newspapers."

("The Albanian Telegraph Agency," it said, "refutes these assertions as absurd, fantastic and without any foundation.")

Freeman's Convention

Editor
Kingston Daily Freeman

Dear Sir:
When I was elected president of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association and thought of the banquet undertaking it was for the Town of Esopus fire districts to act as hosts for the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Convention, I knew we must have the wholehearted support of every fireman and citizen to make the event a success.

For the last three months the Convention Committee, representing the fire districts of Port Jervis, Connelly, St. Remy, Rifton, and Esopus, has met every two weeks. At times we wondered whether the public fully realized the part the volunteer firemen play in the life of every taxpayer and every citizen of both the city and the county in protecting life and property.

However, after reading your editorial headed "Volunteer Firemen" in the Kingston Daily Freeman of July 16, 1947, we believe everyone realizes the vital part that the volunteer firemen play in the life of our community.

May I thank you for writing such an inspiring editorial asking the residents of the township throughout the county and in the city of Kingston to support the annual convention of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association, which will be held in Port Jervis on July 24, 25, 26.

In closing we wish to thank the Kingston Daily Freeman for all the photographs they have taken and for the excellent publicity they are giving this convention. The Convention Committee extends a cordial invitation to the public to witness the parade, which will be held on July 26 at 2 p. m. at Port Jervis, N. Y.

Squash Is Summer Specialty

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Summer squash in some form is a delicious vegetable for hot-weather menus.

Perhaps the most widely used of all summer squashes is the yellow variety, commonly called "the Crook Neck." This name, however, is no longer descriptive as plant scientists, through careful breeding, have straightened out the neck, so that the squash will keep better in crates for shipment.

The Zucchini, long a favorite in Italian communities, is the best known of the green varieties. It is long, slender and cylindrical in shape, with a dark green rind striped with white. The Zucchini makes a very tempting dish either sauteed or simmered in tomato sauce.

The most important of the white group is the Cyming, or Pattypan. It is small and flat and trimmed with decorative edges. It has a soft, smooth rind and may be used raw in a salad, or boiled or stuffed and baked.

No matter which variety you intend to purchase, be sure that the squash is fresh, free from blemishes, fairly heavy for its size with a skin that is easily punctured.

For another interesting vegetable variation in your menu, try okra. While the principal use of okra is to give a pleasant flavor to soups, there are many other ways of enjoying this tasty pod. Boiled whole or baked, it makes an appetizing vegetable accompaniment to the main course at dinner. It also can be used in a salad.

Soft-shell crabs are another summer treat for lots of people. If you can get them in your market, try this recipe:

Fried Soft-Shell Crabs

(Allow 1 to 2 crabs per person.)

Have soft-shell crabs cleaned. Wash thoroughly, drain well and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Dip crab meat in slightly beaten egg combined with 2 tablespoons water, then roll in bread crumbs, back into egg and then in bread crumbs again. Fry in either deep or shallow fat until golden brown on both sides. Drain on paper toweling or brown paper. Serve with desired sauce and lemon wedges.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Blueberries, ready-to-eat cereal, crisp bacon, rye toast, butter or fortified margarine, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Casserole of zucchini and tomato sauce with grated cheese, Italian bread, sliced sausage, fruit bowl, tea, milk.

DINNER: Fried soft-shell crabs, new potatoes with cheese sauce, garden peas, lettuce and tomato salad, enriched bread, butter or fortified margarine, chocolate Spanish cream, iced coffee, milk.

whole or baked, it makes an appetizing vegetable accompaniment to the main course at dinner. It also can be used in a salad.

Ilka Chase Proves Popular in Riggs' Comedy Offering

Woodstock, July 16 — Lynn Riggs' latest play, Laughter From a Cloud, drew from near and far critics and public who heartily endorsed the world premier of this clever, spicy comedy, in its opening presentation, with a capable cast, at the Woodstock Playhouse Tuesday evening.

Ilka Chase gave a fine performance as Lisa Walker, the disillusioned artist wife who retires to New Mexico to find solace in painting. The second act of the play afforded Miss Chase her best opportunity to display the talent for which she has gained national acclaim.

The broad comedy part of Laughter From a Cloud as played by Cynthia Latham delighted the audience, even more at times than the fast, sophisticated lines of other parts. Susan Douglas showed superior ability in her assured portrayal of Lisa Walker, the part of Ilka Chase's daughter in the play. A spirited interpretation of an important role was that given by Polly Rowles, who, as Fanny Derr, a much-admired actress was most satisfactory.

Edmon Ryan while natural for the most part in depicting Cleve Walker, Miss Chase's husband in the play, gave an impression of uncertainty in a few spots. Donald MacDonald was a polished and convincing Dr. Frank Burbage.

Ralph Longley and Peter Harris, the dominating young swains, while adequate, were not too persuasive in their roles.

The bit parts were capably played by John Heller and Gene Byron. Costumes by Adrian were lavish. The play, by the way, was all that might be desired. If the play goes to Broadway as planned, these two features at least need not be changed.

The play was directed by Jerome Mayer. Some cutting, particularly in the third act, would in all probability accelerate the pace of the play.

Though a comedy, Laughter From a Cloud provided some serious moments which served as anti-comedy relief. Audience reaction to the entire production was enthusiastic—P.H.

Robinson Will Be Gallery Speaker

Woodstock, July 16 — Toynbee's, A Study of History, will be the next topic for discussion at the Woodstock Art Gallery on Sunday evening when Henry Morton Robinson, noted Woodstock author, will be the guest speaker.

Judson Phillips, former Woodstock resident, author, and president of Mystery Writers in America, took the affirmative side in the last discussion when You Can't Mix Art and Politics was the subject for the evening. He believes that "the artist must of necessity be interested in politics" and gave his many reasons for this statement.

Many artists and writers who attended the meeting took the negative side of the subject during the open discussion period.

'Horse Township' Created

Miami, Fla., July 16 (AP)—H. E. Hardy's love for horses has caused the creation of a new township known as Virginia Gardens where Ole Dobbin is as welcome as its most distinguished citizen. Hardy, whose affection for horses dates Back many years, became annoyed when Miami Springs passed an ordinance prohibiting the housing of horses within 200 feet of an occupied dwelling. "Burned up," Hardy decided to do something. With the assistance of others who wanted to keep horses, he formed the mile square area of Virginia Gardens, where there'll be no such law, Hardy is the mayor.

Railroads May Sell On Instalment Plan Under Credit Rule

Chicago, July 16 (AP)—Most of the nation's major railroads are planning to offer tickets and other travel expenses for sale on the installment plan.

A "liberal" credit plan will be inaugurated by more than 50 carriers on September 1, the Railroad Passenger Interterritorial Committee announced. Payments for the tickets and other expenses, including cash required for proposed trips, will be on a monthly basis up to one year.

H. W. Siddal, chairman of the committee, said the railroads would work in cooperation with local banks for installment buying.

No collateral would be required and no down payment needed. The interest rate would be the usual rate charged by local banks for consumer credit loans, Siddal said.
